DETAILED ACTION

Election by Original Presentation

The Applicant canceled all previously pending claims 1-41 and newly added claims 42-44. Newly submitted claims 42-44 are directed to an invention that is independent or distinct from the invention originally claimed for the following reasons: Applicant significantly altered the structural elements of newly added claim 42 claiming second terminal device, and by Applicant's arguments distinguishing over previous invention, determining whether second terminal device has ownership of content.

Since applicant has received an action on the merits for the originally presented invention, this invention has been constructively elected by original presentation for prosecution on the merits. Accordingly, claims 42-44 are withdrawn from consideration as being directed to a non-elected invention. See 37 CFR 1.142(b) and MPEP § 821.03.

Examiner's Note:

Please note claim scope is not limited by claim language that suggests or makes optional but does not require steps to be performed, or by claim language that does not limit a claim to a particular structure. However, examples of claim language, although not exhaustive, that may raise a question as to the limiting effect of the language in a claim are:

- (A) "adapted to" or "adapted for" clauses (also "operable" "capable");
- (B) "wherein" clauses; and
- (C) "whereby" clauses.

The determination of whether each of these clauses is a limitation in a claim depends on the specific facts of the case. In Hoffer v. Microsoft Corp., 405 F.3d 1326, 1329, 74 USPQ2d 1481, 1483 (Fed. Cir. 2005), the court held that when a "'whereby' clause states a condition that is material to patentability, it cannot be ignored in order to change the substance of the invention." Id. However, the court noted (quoting Minton v. Nat'l Ass'n of Securities Dealers, Inc., 336 F.3d 1373, 1381, 67 USPQ2d 1614, 1620 (Fed. Cir. 2003)) that a "'whereby clause in a method claim is not given weight when it simply expresses the intended result of a process step positively recited.'" Id.

The Examiner is recommending method claims be incorporated into any future amendment that actively claim the method as supported by system and/or apparatus claims, and is further recommending the Applicant consider a telephonic interview for further discussion pertaining to system claim language.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments are moot. Claims 42-44 are withdrawn from consideration on the basis of election by original presentation as cited above.

Art Unit: 3625

Applicant canceled all previously pending claims and stated that prior art rejection was moot in light of the newly submitted claims.
